To Whom It May Concern:

It has been said that do not protect yourself by a fence, but rather by your friends. I was fortunate to meet Hamdy Ahmed Mohamed Rashed since May 2007 and have called him a friend more than workmate. However, we have worked in different departments in Oil Search, but we laughed together, shared our different knowledge with one another and respect each other throughout those years.

I have seen and am aware of the principles on which he has established his life: honesty, truth and courage. In the motion picture industry, it is easy to fall into the world of gossip and petty talk yet he has always been the pillar of dignity, destinations, value and powerfully intended integrity. He always puts principles before personalities. He always likes to be initiative to do good things and sometimes to be a leader.

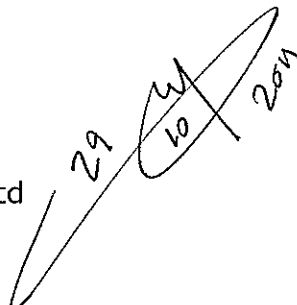

Hamdy is like a tree that many who know him have sat in his shade and even been protected by his presence. I am proud of him, proud to call him the best friend.

Feel free to contact me if you have any further inquiries

To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Hamdy Ahmed Mohammed Rashed. I have known Hamdy as a friend since we are colleagues in KPMG-Yemen in 2004, and have found him to be a reliable and conscientious person. We have travelled together on vacation. In many situations, Hamdy has shown himself to be considerate and honest.

I have also found Hamdy to be an intelligent individual, who is willing to take the lead in situations when required. His good judgement on many things in our life has been important on several occasions as we have been friends, and he has provided loyal support at difficult times in my life.

In short, I would recommend Hamdy as a trustworthy person who can be relied upon when life gets difficult, and he will prove to be a valued colleague and friend to those fortunate to spend time with him.

Sincerely,

Mohanna Ahmed Eljabaly
